APOLLO

Made from a solid piece of machine-turned aluminium or brass, Apollo's conical forms balance end-on-end alluding to mass and weight. Its surfaces are deliberately left raw, with a real material presence.

HANS

Capturing the movement of a wave was the intention and inspiration for the shape of Hans. The brim of the shade rises rapidly to its peak before falling away on the other side.

KANDINSKY

The Kandinsky pendant lamp is inspired by the abstract circle paintings from the artist of the same name. A sphere and a spear play the main roles in the handblown lamp's composition.

ROMB

Romb emerged as a result of Broberg & Ridderstråle experimenting with a rippled cardboard they use lots when modelling and developing architecture projects. The shape, a rhombus, emerged quickly and split into two forms; one larger than the other, which cast an interesting direct light upwards but also indirect down, over the base of the shape. The piece works well on narrow spaces like bookshelves or windowsills, and has a strong sculptural presence whether it's shining or not. Romb is made from custom-pressed steel with seamless edges and great attention to detail.
